Yellowhead Library Begins Book Delivery

SUB-MITS FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

September again has brought the re-opening of another school year. If you had a new beginner, you may have shed a few tears internally. If you have several children, who were finding the days long, you probably heaved a sigh of relief. The children also experience mixed emotions. We, at the school, are looking forward to another busy year.

The school is experiencing growing pains. And until the new high school is ready, several classrooms are situated in "outposts". One grade six classroom is in St. Anthony's Separate School, one is in the Baptist Church, and two are presently in the arena. One grade four classroom is in the Church of God, and another is in the Anglican Parish Hall. As well, every nook and cranny in the Elementary School is filled. Bear with us as we patiently wait for construction to finish up classrooms in the new building.

Other activities in the school included several renovations, which will be appreciated after the move. The portable classrooms were moved out and the schoolyard finally seeded in August. At present there is no sign of grass and your children may still be coming home muddy.

The enrolment has also risen. Almost 800 children are registered in grades one to six. They are under the direction of 29 classroom teachers. Completing the instructional staff are a physical education and music teacher.

We welcome to our staff the following: Mrs. S. Storbakken, Special Education; Miss K. Turner, Grade One; Mrs. S. Omelchuk, Grade Three; Mrs. M. Read, Grade Four; Miss S. Yakimchuk, Grade Five; Mr. T. Lenihan, Grade Five; Miss V. Prodaniuk, Grade Five; Miss L. McPherson, Physical Ed.; Mrs. J. Lenihan, Music; Mrs. G. Oxtoby, Library; Mrs. R. Weir, Business Assistant; Mr. W. C. McCarthy, Principal. More about these new people in our community as the year progresses.

At the beginning of this school year, we would like to re-issue an invitation to come to the school when any need arises.

The Yellowhead Regional Library staff commenced cataloging and processing of material to be distributed to the schools and libraries of the area on July 12th, and over 3000 books are ready for delivery. The county of Parkland will receive over 400 of these.

Until the shelves arrived on August 10th the staff was severely hindered in its cramped headquarters, with over 6000 books in boxes around the floor. Since the erection of the shelves the book processing has been greatly simplified.

All books issued to schools and community libraries will arrive completely catalogued and processed leaving the teacher and librarian free to attend to the demands of children and public, rather than having to attend to administrative details.

Conventional cataloging will be accompanied by a computer print-out catalogue. The use of computers in cataloging is in the experimental stage in the region, and it is hoped that the eventual cost after the first experimental year will be low enough to ensure a continuation of computerized cataloging. For the first year the provincial government is financing the computerized cataloging experiment. With the use of computers every person will be aware of the complete stock of the Region and all material will be available to all people.

Of special interest to the Public and Community Libraries is the provision of $5000 for binding of books already owned by the participating public libraries.

The library is to commence delivery of books, which includes a large amount of material for the new Social Studies curriculum on September 1st. Books are placed in the schools and public libraries on permanent loan, and are not circulated except by request.

The Deputy Librarian, Mrs. Eva Kerester will spend much of her time delivering the books and talking to teachers and librarians about their problems and future requirements. Deliveries will be made to each school and community library each month during the school year.

Routine Business For Town Council

A regular meeting of Town Council was held on August 26th with four members in attendance. Vacation time accounted for the absence of several other members.

Site for the proposed senior citizens home was the subject for some discussion. Councillor Mayhew explained that the original plan from Edmonton Regional Planning Commission was not acceptable to the land owner concerned nor the Development Committee.

A new plan has been prepared and forwarded to Regional Planning for approval. Council appeared satisfied with the way the lodge proposal was moving ahead. Approval was received from Edmonton Regional Planning for a nursery development on the N 1/2 of Section 8-49-7-W5.

Council approved the sale of Lots 2, 5 and 6 in Block 57 to Superior Construction.

Welfare assistance payments were discussed at some length and it was decided to look further into all aspects of the welfare situation. The council is particularly concerned with its responsibilities in regard to heads of families who appear able to support them.

Council rejected an application to move a trailer on to a lot in the industrial area for use of a caretaker. The rejection was based on the premise that there was insufficient reason to warrant on-the-property residence of a caretaker.

Council disapproved an application for subdivision of S.E. 1/4 17-49-7-W5 (across highway from Ambassador Motel) because it did not comply with the General Plan of the town.

Council ratified the appointment of Elmer Madsen as chief of the Drayton Valley Fire Department and Dave Ellery as deputy chief.

Council approved the renting of two rooms in the Centennial Civic Centre to the County of Parkland School Committee for school use during the month of September.

Brand Act Delayed

The new Brand Inspection Act passed at the last session of the legislature will not be put into effect until October first.

In announcing the delay, Agriculture Minister H. A. Ruste said he had hoped to have the new act come into effect on September first but it was not possible to get sufficient quantity of the new forms printed by that date.

Mr. Ruste says the new Brand Inspection Act will help law enforcement agencies to apprehend rustlers more quickly and will facilitate a quicker return of stolen and lost cattle to their owners because it will use a computerized brand retrieval system.

Information to acquaint farmers ranchers and livestock dealers of the requirements of the new act will be made available within the next couple of weeks.

Funeral Service For Wm. Gray

New Film Features Linkletter, Webb

The latest Billy Graham film, Lost Generation, features special appearances by Art Linkletter and "Dragnet" star Jack Webb.

Linkletter, whose daughter Diane died as the result of the use of drugs, discusses drug usage in America, and points to what is being done voluntarily by many teenagers to combat the problem. Webb states his views on the role of the police officer and his relationship to the laws of our society.

Lost Generation, filmed in Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, is a probing documentary which takes a close look at the attitudes and morals of the Nation. Location filming was done in Alaska, the Southern states, on the farms and in the small towns of mid-America, and in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

Lost Generation will be shown on Wednesday, September 15th, at Emmaus Lutheran Church in Drayton Valley. There will be no admission charge for the 7:30 p.m. showing. The Reverend Dale D. Mohr pastor of the church extends a cordial invitation to the public.

TV Bingo to Help Offset Camp Costs

The Associated Candian Travelers (Edmonton Club) has launched a new fund raising venture to help offset the costs of operating a burgeoning camp for the handicapped at Lake Isle.

Faced with unexpected costs brought on by 22% increase in attendance of handicapped at the camp this summer, the Camp Board Executive, through the Associated Candian Travellers (Edmonton Club) will hold a T-V Bingo on CFRN TV (Channel 3) at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, September 8.

Ross Symington, Chairman of Camp Sponsorships, advised that proceeds from the Bingo will help offset the added costs of accommodating 450 handicapped at Camp during the summer. This compares with 372 occupants last summer in seven camping sessions. There are nine camping periods this summer between May 29th and September 13, Mr. Symington stated.

Bingo cards are available at drug stores, food outlets, service stations, cleaner depots and other places of business in most communities throughout North-Central Alberta. Cards are selling at one dollar each or six for five dollars.

The A.C.T. Committee is offering ten blackout games to be played between 7:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Wednesday, September 8. Each game is worth at least $1,000.00 with the tie breakers receiving a minimum of $50.00. As a special award a 1971 Vega will be drawn for the next morning among all the winners.

Players will be given till 11:00 p.m. to phone in their results and winners will be announced on a special program the following morning. They will also be published in Edmonton's daily paper.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Dori Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

The Conservative election triumph over Social Credit will bring a new style and image to Alberta's government, but basically the same economic and fiscal policies will prevail.

Premier-elect Peter Lougheed was surprised by his lopsided 49-25-1 victory in which the Tory party swept the major cities, gained a split in smaller cities and captured a surprising number of seats in rural central and northern Alberta.

The defeat of Canada's oldest government could mark the end of Social Credit. The party's base was reduced to a hold on southern Alberta rural constituencies and it will have difficulty finding the leadership and urban orientation which apparently are now prerequisites to power in Alberta.

New Democratic Party leader Grant Notely will add a third voice in the new Legislature with his personal victory in Spirit River-Fairview where he upset A.O. Fimrite, the cabinet minister in charge of northern development.

Over all, however, the NDP fell short of its popular vote expectations as Mr. Lougheed grabbed the lion's share of uncommitted votes plus enough

NDP and Liberal votes to turn the tide.

The magnitude of the Tory victory becomes clear by looking at the remains of Harry Strom's cabinet. No fewer than eight of the 17 Socred ministers went down to defeat.

Mr. Lougheed, who takes over the government September 10th, will probably fashion his cabinet from the ranks of the 10-member Tory caucus who all gained re-election.

His rural lieutenant, Dr. Hugh Homer, could be in line for any one of several portfolios including highways, and health. A newcomer to the House, Dr. Allan Warrack, is a strong contender for the agriculture post. Dr. Warrack is an agricultural economist at the University of Alberta.

Former Edmonton Eskimo quarterback Don Getty is a prime candidate for the mines and minerals portfolio. This appointment is vital in view of the fact the province will renegotiate the oil royalty rate structure next year.

But the man who will hold the number two portfolio in the Lougheed cabinet is likely to be Edmontonian Lou Hyndman. The new premier has said federal-provincial relations will be of vital importance and Mr. Hyndman is likely to get the call.

The post involves immediate responsibility with a host of federal-provincial cost-sharing programs such as medicare, hospitalization and post-secondary education up for renegotiation in the coming months.

There's likely to be a few surprises in the first Tory legislative package which will be presented when the Legislature convenes early in the new year.

Mr. Lougheed said on election night the first government bill will be an Alberta Bill of Rights which he has championed in the House for the last two years.

The Tories are also likely to introduce their $50 million industrial incentives fund and will be under pressure to take positive steps to aid the slumping agriculture industry.

For the Socreds the road ahead looks bleak, although Mr. Strom has indicated he will lead the new Socred opposition in the House. His retirement in a year appears likely, however, and could leave the party split into discordant factions, particularly because there are few new faces in the Socred caucus and no heir-apparent.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all the voters who supported me at the polls in the recent Provincial election. I will do my best to represent the Constituency of Drayton Valley in the Legislature.

I would at this time like to ask for the help of all my constituents, both those who supported me and those who supported the other candidates, to bring problems concerning government to my attention. I can only help you when I am fully aware of the problems.

All young people are especially invited to meet with me to discuss any problems or suggestions.

In closing I would like to give a special vote of thanks to my campaign managers, Al Chesterman and Jack Tyler, to each and every one of all the other workers who gave their time.

Thank you for your effort that assured the success of the Progressive Conservatives in the Drayton Valley Constituency.

RUSTY ZANDER, M.L.A.

Youth and Employment

"Dear Kid:

"Today you asked me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before, and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

"But, I hired a teenager today. You saw him. He was the one with polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience, neither of you had any. It was his attitude that put him on the payroll instead of you. Attitude, son. A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E. He wanted that job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company does. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

"You see, Kid, people who hire people aren't 'with' a lot of things. We know more about King than about Ringo and we have some Stone-Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the cheques we sign, and if you want one you'd better tune to our wave length.

"Ever hear of 'empathy'? It's the trick of seeing the other fellow's side of things. I couldn't have cared less that you're behind in your car payments. That's your problem. What I needed was someone who'd go out on the job, keep his eyes open, and work for me like he'd work for himself. If you have even the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show the next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest.

"Look kid: The only time jobs grew on trees was while most of the manpower was overseas. For all the rest of history, you've had to get a job like you get a girl: 'Case' the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear reasonably willing.

"Maybe jobs aren't as plentiful right now, but a lot of us can remember when master craftsmen walked the streets. By comparison you don't know the meaning of 'scarce'.

"You may not believe it, but all around you employers are looking for young men smart enough to go after a job in the old-fashioned way. When they find one, they can't wait to unload some of their worries on him.

"For both our sakes, GET EAGER, will you?"

-- Anonymous."

Emmaus Lutheran Church Setting for Recent Ceremony

The Emmaus Lutheran Church of Drayton Valley was the setting for the marriage of Linda Louise Frank, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Frank of Drayton Valley, and James Walter Ball, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ball, also of Drayton Valley. The lovely double-ring ceremony was performed at 4:00 p.m. by Pastor D. Mohr on Saturday, August 28, 1971.

The bride wore an elegant floor length gown of white satin with a shoulder length veil. Given in marriage by her father, she carried a beautiful bouquet of red roses.

Bridesmaids were Patty Frank, sister of the bride, and Pat Hoge, friend of the bride. Wearing identical floor length gowns of blue satin, they carried bouquets of white carnations and blue crysanthemums. The bridesmaids wore matching pearl necklaces which were gifts of the bride.

Attendants of the groom were Jerry Ball, brother of the groom and Wayne Selin, friend of the groom. The ushers were Ron Gavel of Edmonton, cousin of the bride, and Ron Cameron, friend of the groom, formerly of Rocky Rapids.

The mother of the bride chose an outfit of coral fortrel and lace for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore a silver dress with a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Legion Hall. After the newly weds opened their gifts, a dance ended the big day. Master of Ceremonies was Ron Gavel and a toast to the bride was given by Ron Cameron.

For a going-away outfit, the lovely young bride chose a white fortrel dress with accompanying navy coat and shoes, and a white purse.

Following a short stay in Rocky Mountain House, the young couple will make their home in Edmonton where the groom will be attending NAIT and the bride will be employed.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

My problem is a mother-in-law. My husband and I have been married for 17 years. Neither sets of parents attended the wedding. His family stayed away because my husband converted to Catholicism and they are very anti-Catholic. My family thought my husband was too wild and not good enough for me. However, throughout the years my family have come to accept him. We found it very hard in the beginning to be nice, yet I went out of my way to make special occasions for them. I have had this effort met with open dislike from my husband's mother. For example, she'd invite us for a meal on a Friday, and then serve meat, knowing full well that at that time, it was supposed to be a meatless day for us. If I arrived with a small gift for Mother's Day, she would ignore the gift completely until one of the family asked her to open it. When we moved to Alberta, I'd write, only to find that she would write back to my husband only, and then in care of his office. When Christmas would come, she'd send some of the children gifts and then leave others out. I wrote and pointed out the problem this created at a supposedly happy time for the family, and I got blasted for my trouble by return mail. After every child, she has given me the abstinence bit. Then after our last child she cornered me and told me to quit going to bed with my husband, that enough was enough. How do you cope with such a person?

Dear Exasperated:

Life would be a lot easier if we could pick our relatives as well as our friends. We're plagued with the ideal of happy family relationships. But this cannot be achieved by one side alone. It must be a total contribution by the total family to achieve this end. When someone will not play his or her part, then we can only accept the fact and not have guilt feelings that we have failed. God doesn't ask us to achieve what He has not been able to accomplish. The fact is that although He has showered His mercies and blessings on many of His children, they still act like spoiled brats in His sight. So with us, in our relationships. Stay as far away from personal contact as possible, and wait for some kind of gesture of change-of-heart of the other side. I hope the day comes, when she seeks your forgiveness and you'll give it.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

Last week, I was visiting our daughter and she asked, "How do you explain illegitimate children to ten and twelve year olds?" My daughter has three boys. The eldest is 12 years and the fourth, a girl, is 8. The oldest boy isn't the easiest to talk to. The second lad helps his Dad with the cattle and knows the facts of life. I feel that the boys should have a good explanation given them. You see, my husband used to brush off our children's questions with queer answers. And to this day they are not close to him.

Dear Grandma:

First and foremost, this needs to be said. There are no "illegitimate children." There are only "illegitimate parents." Secondly, the circumstances surrounding pregnancy are not to be found just within the bounds of marriage

All of these children are old enough to have "this fact of life" discussed and discussed thoroughly. Thirdly, the children need to be told, that the true parents in this world are those who love the child. This means that when two people are foolish enough to provide the circumstances for pregnancy outside of marriage, there are more than enough "true parents" who are ready and willing to provide the love and home so that such children can and will have a normal and good life. I hope your daughter and her husband don't repeat the mistake your husband made with your children. If a few more parents would communicate, there wouldn't be so many "illegitimate parents".

Mr. Glen Campbell and Mr. Bill Hermanrud assisted Mr. Pugh at the polling, as enumerators.

Former Driver Joins Million Mile Hall

A picture of Tom Young of Camrose was hung in the Million Mile Hall of Fame in the Highway Building in Edmonton recently, when the "Hall" was officially opened. Mr. Young, who is the brother of Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin and George Young of Evansburg, is well known throughout the Camrose region, where he drove trucks and buses for many years, as well as operating the Camrose Bus Depot for 12 years.

Requirements for the Million Mile Award, which was the brainchild of John Joyce, a ministerial assistant to Hon. Gordon Taylor, is to drive more than a million miles without a chargeable accident or moving conviction. Mr. Young is one of only seventeen Albertans who now have this award and his record was achieved more than twenty-five years ago when he was driving a bus for the Sunburst Motor Coach Lines.

Between trucking before the job with the bus line, and driving since that time, he has accumulated over two million miles without incurring any conviction or accident.

Born in Fennie, B.C., he moved with his family as a youngster to Evansburg, and after finishing school moved to Drennen, Alberta where he worked in a coal mine. His first trucking job was hauling dynamite and primer caps during the winter months, and a gas and freight haul between Edmonton and Evansburg in the summer. In 1933 he moved to Galahad, trucking freight and gas between the Alliance area and Turner Valley.

He started with Sunburst in 1935 as a bus driver, remaining with them until 1946 when he took over management of the Camrose Bus Depot. He remained there, meeting and serving many of the people he had formerly driven for until 1958 when he went into semi-retirement. He chalked up about one and a half million miles driving for Sunburst, and was presented with the coach line Million Mile Accident Free Plaque.

In 1958 he married Florence Knott, and together they now spend the summer months on their property on Lost Lake, several miles west of Wetaskiwin. Keenly interested in wildlife, they have built about one hundred and fifty bird houses for their feathered friends and keep an interested watch on their activities.

"Even your interest earns interest with a Bonus Savings Account."

says
Gordon
Langford

"The great thing about a Royal Bank Bonus Savings Account is that it helps you make more money -- faster. It pays high interest, and the interest is then added to your savings. So every time your interest is calculated, it's on your accumulated savings plus the accumulated interest you've already earned. So it really begins to pile up.

Another thing -- a Bonus Savings Account is meant strictly for saving -- so you can't write cheques. You can get your money out whenever you need to, but because you can't write cheques, there's not the same temptation to nibble away at your savings.

So if you've got something special to save for ... a new home, a car, a trip ... or you'd like to put away a 'nest egg', a Royal Bank Bonus Savings Account makes a lot of sense. Because it makes saving a lot easier. And a lot faster. Come on in and talk it over."

Forage Crop Samples Required for Study

Alberta farmers who have pastures that have been seeded down to the same forage crop for 20 years, or more, are asked to contact Dr. P. D. Walton, plant geneticist and forage crop specialist with the plant science department of the University of Alberta. He would like to collect small samples of the legumes and grasses in these pastures for his unique forage crop breeding program.

Based on natural selection, this program is the only one of its kind in Western Canada, and probably the only one on the North American continent. The unique part of the program is the fact that Dr. Walton is working with plants that have already adapted to their environment. Plant selection is usually done from varieties which have been recently introduced and have had little opportunity to adapt to local conditions. Most of the forage varieties used on the prairies have been introduced during the last 50 years, mainly from Europe.

It is the fact that almost all forage plants are cross-pollinated that enables them to adapt to their environment. There are genetic variabilities within each variety and strain as well as within each individual plant. Those plants that have adapted and thrived here have so through natural selection, and it is samples of these plants that Dr. Walton is interested in collecting. Cross-pollination and adaptability, says Dr. Walton, create an ideal situation for natural selection.

His short-term objective is to perhaps be lucky enough to find forage specimens which combine such desirable characteristics as winter hardiness, insect and disease resistance, longevity, a high yield per acre, good nutritional value and palatability. To evaluate any promising specimens, he compares these characteristics with those found in recommended commercial forage varieties. His long-term objective is to produce better forage varieties than those presently available, either by straight selection or by crossing plants within a group.

When Dr. Walton hears of a pasture that is at least 20 years old, he goes to the farm to collect his samples. If the forage is a legume, he collects about 50 plants. If it is a grass pasture, he digs up a six to eight-inch square of turf. The samples are taken back to the University for testing.

Each sample is divided into five equal parts or clones. The clones are planted in flower pots and left there until they become pot-bound. This is done to make each clone as equal as possible to the others. Four of the clones are then planted out in the field and one is put into the greenhouse for more detailed study. The samples are tested for the above mentioned characteristics over a period of three-years.

Since he first started collecting forage samples, Dr. Walton has accumulated about 2,000. The majority have been alfalfa samples, but he is also testing orchard grass, timothy, crested wheatgrass, Kentucky bluegrass and brome-grass. The samples have come from as far north as Manning and as far south as Lethbridge. A few of the pastures had been seeded to the original forage for as long as 50 years.

With so many reports of bloating problems and inquiries about advisability of spraying legumes out of mixtures, the following comments may prove helpful:

- TO REDUCE BLOAT
1. Keep Cattle intake of lush, actively-growing legumes down to 25%. A 40% intake of alfalfa at the late bud stage should be safe. Note that this is considerably less than the 50% intake previously used as a rule of thumb.
 2. Graze small areas at a time. This enforces rapid use of the pasture and reduces selective grazing.
 3. Use nitrogen fertilization and a long period between grazing to help keep legumes down to a relatively 'safe' level.
- IF BLOAT IS EXPECTED
1. Inspect cattle hourly during the day.
 2. At night, put cattle on hay or silage, away from a dangerous pasture.
 3. Graze on safe grass or cereal grain pasture at night.
 4. Encourage cattle to eat grass or oat hay or corn silage. It has been shown that cattle eating 30% of their feed as oat hay do not bloat, but on good pasture cattle will rarely eat this much unless forced to do so.

5. Be especially alert when forage is wet, and also after the fall frost; many stockmen believe that bloat is more prevalent under these conditions.

IF BLOAT OCCURS

1. Have at hand a plentiful supply of long-necked bottles already filled with mineral oil. Give a drench of four 8 oz. bottles to 1000 lb. cow and six bottles to proportionately larger animals. Be careful to hold the head no higher than the shoulder and allow the animals adequate time to swallow and to breathe, or the oil may get into the lungs and cause pneumonia.
2. If the animal is staggering and 'going down' do not hesitate to make a 6 in. cut into the rumen on the left flank to release the ingesta. It will be necessary to get a veterinarian to sew up the cut but the cow will be saved.

WINTER KILL

Still with forages, the critical time with regard to cutting dates and preventing winter kill in Alberta is between August 25 and September 10. During this time, carbohydrate reserves are being stored in the roots for the long dormancy in winter. If the top growth is removed during this period, reserves will be insufficient, resulting in greater susceptibility to winter kill. Forage can be cut soon after first frost or after September 10 after which there is little new growth.

a 5,000 animal feedlot produces the equivalent of wastes to a city of 50,000 people. If these wastes were spread on land at recommended rates they would cover about 2,000 acres a year.

ENTWISTLE NEWS

The Entwistle Elks will be holding a Bar-B-Q at the Elks Hall on September 18. A dance will follow to round out the evening.

Lou and Alice Vollans of Yellowknife were in Entwistle recently visiting a number of their friends.

The Entwistle Elks Whist will start again on October 2nd, in the Elks Hall starting at 8:30 pm. Everyone is welcome to come and play.

Glennis, Ralph and Wendy Osettag spent some of their holidays in B.C. with Todd and Jay Sumner.

A shower for Verna Burke (nee Denim) was held on Saturday August 28, at the home of Lil Hanson. Many lovely gifts were received from the good crowd that attended. Verna thanked them all very graciously after which a lunch was served.

The Rellings have gone for a short holiday before the children have to return to school.

Forest and Lila Bancroft spent some holidays at Provost, Big Valley and Stettler visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. L. Holiday of Stony Plain spent some time in Entwistle visiting her family and friends.

Dorothy and Reynolds Dunbar of Toronto visited with cousins Lila and Forest Bancroft recently.

Ruth and Elmer Messenger and Sharon and Jim Wark are away to Victoria for a few holidays.

The Entwistle Girls' Ball Team for 14 years and under, won the trophy by beating Stony Plain 17-13. The team consisted of Linda Hofmann (captain), Ila Tufty, Cindy Relling, Suzanna Willoughby, Sandra Adashynski, Ruth Hofmann, Nola Knudsen, Agnes Sawatsky, Beverly Cameron, Son Sojnia Ulvestad, and Sylvis Ulvestad. The coach was Cliff Jevne. They wish to thank all those who helped to transport the girls to their games.

Cameron Deardoff was attending Hockey School in Edmonton where he hurt his leg and had to return home. We hope all will be better before too long.

With the schools now opening, I am sure all the mothers will be looking forward to a much needed rest and the children will all be glad to see their many friends once again.

MOON LAKE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cherrington motored to Cold Lake for a week-end where they visited Leona and Lloyd Reidlinger and family. Leona is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cherrington.

Good to see Jean Lang home from hospital, looking and feeling much better.

Surprise! Surprise! Such were the feelings of Mrs. Dick Davis, formerly of Moon Lake. The occasion was her eighty-second birthday on September 1st, when old friends and neighbors from Moon Lake arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Burki of Sanguito to help Margaret celebrate. Mrs. Davis is a resident at the Senior Citizen's Home in Barrhead. She has been spending a few days visiting with Valetta Burki. Vi Cherrington, Vida Town, Hilda Catt, Blanche Jensen and Fred Cherrington all spent a most enjoyable visit at the Burki home.

"Nothing like this has ever happened to me before. I never had my name on a cake before!" exclaimed Margaret. We all wish you many more happy birthdays, Margaret.

Several friends dropped in on Janice Lang to help her celebrate her 13th birthday on August 26th. Several dozen hot dogs were consumed and a large birthday cake.

Sympathy of the district is extended to the family of the late Gordon Carnegie who passed away suddenly on September 5th at the Drayton Valley Hospital. Gordon will be greatly missed by his many friends and neighbors in the district as he was called upon often and willingly helped when neighbors needed help with their animals.

Sympathy is also extended to the Fred Cherrington and Irvin Combs families on the accidental death of their four year old granddaughter, Roxanna Combs of Williams Lake, B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Cherrington, Vera Starling and Mr. and Mrs. Combs left immediately to be with Laura and Autry at this time.

Seven Stock Cars from Here Take Part in Prov. Meet

Seven cars from Drayton Valley took part in the two day Provincial Meet at Camrose Centennial Raceways. There were 24 cars in "C" class, 18 cars in the "D" class and 9 V8 Superstock cars that took part.

On the first day of racing in the V8 superstock class, Bill Kovacs took the Trophy Dash and also took a 4th place. Ed Chymycz placed 2nd in his first race. In the "C" class Len Regenwetter took a 3rd place and Dail Platz took a 4th place in his last race of the day.

On the second day of racing Bill Kovacs took a 1st place and a 2nd place. Ed Chymycz took a 2nd place and two 4th places. Alfred Dahlgren took 2nd place in the last race of the day. In "C" class Dail Platz took a 1st place, a 2nd place and a 4th place. John Platz took a 2nd place and a 4th place. Len Regenwetter took a 3rd place and a 4th place.

Wayne Thompson was our only "D" class car to take part from Drayton Valley. He had the misfortune to blow his motor.

In the over-all standing Mike Kovacs from Wetaskiwin took the Provincial Superstock Trophy. Bill Kovacs from Drayton Valley came in second and Ed Chymycz from Drayton Valley came in third.

For our second year of racing, Drayton Valley stock cars came out extremely well. We offer our congratulations to all of our drivers who took part.

The next race to be held at the Triple B Oval will take place on Sunday, September 12th. Time trials will start at 1:00 p.m. and races will be underway at 2:00.

We hope to see a large attendance to watch some of the finest drivers in the Alberta Racing Association.

NEW CLAIMS ADVISORY SERVICE

Alberta workmen and employers in smaller urban communities now have an opportunity to present their claims problems in person to a representative of the Workmen's Compensation Board. A Claims Advisory Officer has been appointed by the Board to visit central points throughout the province.

Mr. Gordon S. Long is the new Claims Advisor and has already made his initial visits to several points in the southern, central and northern areas of the province.

Mr. Long has been a member of the W.C.B. staff for the past twelve years and has had experience in many aspects of the Board's operation, particularly in the claims field.

To help make the service effective, several weeks advance notice is given through the news media in an area prior to the Claims Advisor's visit. The advertising invites those who feel they need help to make an appointment with Mr. Long. This prior notice gives him an opportunity to gather relevant material for discussion, but it does not, in any way, preclude anyone from seeking his assistance while in the area.

Those who would like information or assistance with their claims but have not made appointments are welcome to call during Mr. Long's visit to their community. He is anxious to hear from anyone, employer or employee, who needs advice concerning claims.

RETESTING PROVES SOME FISH SAFE FOR EATING

The Honourable Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Alberta Minister of the Department of Lands and Forests announces that fish from Moose Lake near Bonnyville, Alberta were retested for mercury contamination and the results have shown that all perch, and the walleye and pike (jackfish) that are smaller than 2½ or 18 inches in length are below the 0.5 parts per million level. The public is advised that fish under the 2½ pound size or 18 inches in length are safe to use for food.

A sample of 51 fish which included perch, walleye and pike (jackfish) was taken from a number of areas in Moose Lake were retested for mercury content, following the findings in early July that the mercury level in a small sample of fish had exceeded the safe level of 0.5 parts per million of mercury. The results of the second sample showed that a relationship existed between the size of the fish and the amount of mercury it contained; the larger the fish the greater the mercury content.

All perch tested were well below the 0.5 parts per million level and the walleye and pike below the 2½ pound or 18 inches in length size were also below this level. Those walleye and pike larger than the 2½ pound size showed a sharp increase in the mercury content with the increase in size.
